The European Association Summit 2019

For the seventh consecutive year, visit.brussels is organising the European Association Summit (EAS) in Brussels on 28 February and 1 March. The event has become an unmissable opportunity to share information and knowledge, and network with other international associations. This annual peer-to-peer education and networking forum is being organised in collaboration with the leading partners in the sector: ESAE (European Society of Association Executives), FAIB (Federation of European & International Associations Based in Belgium) and UIA (Union of International Associations).

The Summit features educational content delivered by association experts and professionals from various fields. Focusing on practical cases ranging from local issues, governance, member relations or communications and new technologies, the conference has proved to be of great added value for attending association representatives.

Why attend EAS?

Benefit from our expertise

Attend an event organised in a unique space for the seventh consecutive year by experts in association support and the organisation of meetings, congresses and events.

Discover the world's leading city for international associations

Seize the opportunity to discover Brussels, which is ranked first in terms of association headquarters and first in Europe in number of association conferences organised (UIA rankings).

You don't have to be rich

EAS gives you real value for money. It costs much less than other comparable association events. For a modest fee, you get 2 days packed with workshops, panel discussions and unique networking opportunities.

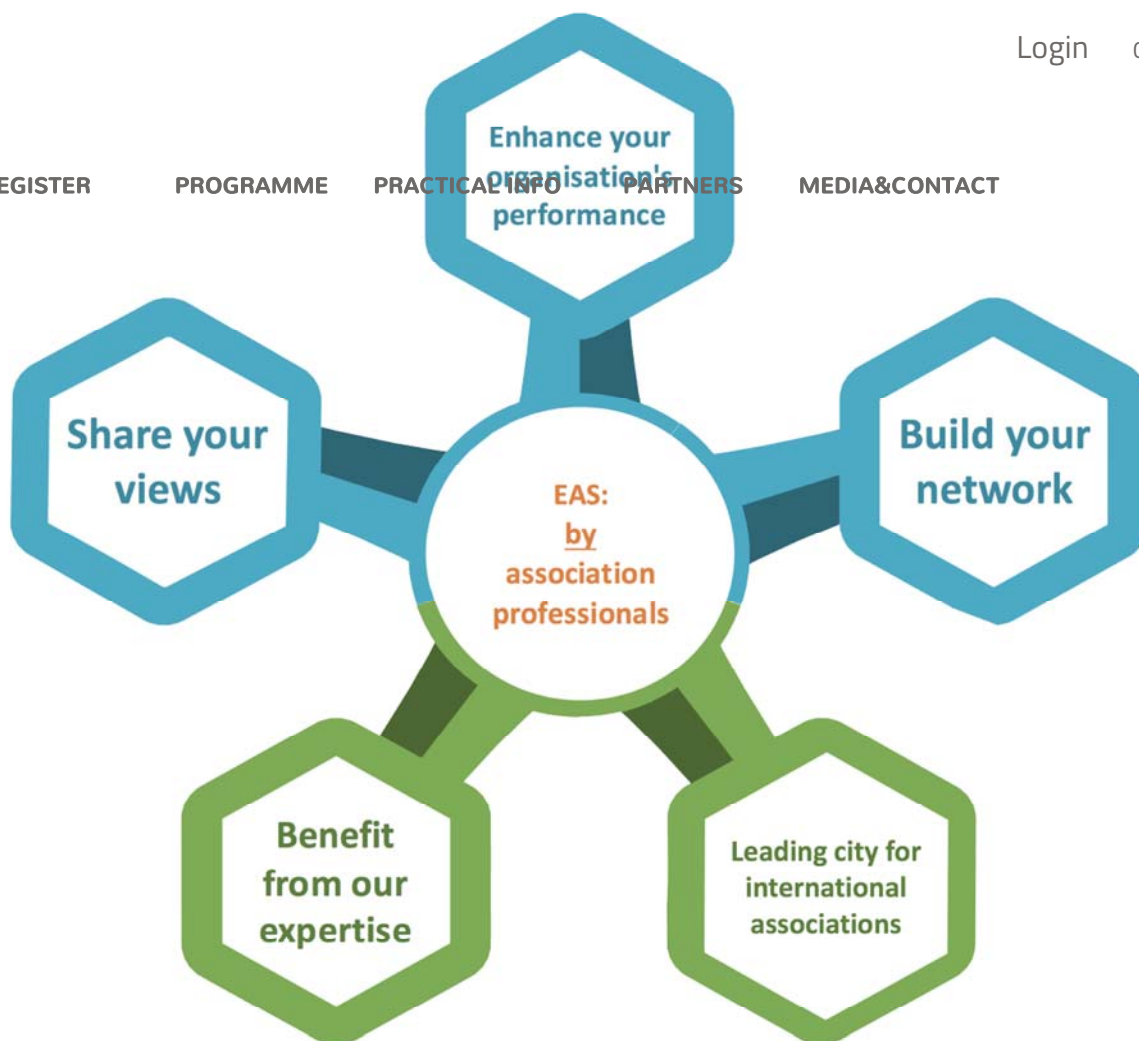

Not in Brussels? Be our foreign guest!

EAS believes the summit will be even richer with international associations from other European countries. So, we're offering complimentary travel + hotel for up to 20 international associations based outside Belgium. Sounds too good to miss? Contact visit.brussels now.
