About the LPB TTT Course

The Lost Person Behavior Course has been taught to SAR professionals around the world and is currently used by the governments around the world for standard instruction. Participants will attend the full Lost Person Behavior program, as well as receive in-depth instruction that goes above and beyond the actual course. Participants will walk away with new practical knowledge, a license to instruct the course, and a wealth of material, including Lost Person Behavior Instructor's Resource DVD, Lost Person Behavior text, Lost Person Behavior Workbook, Instructor notes, Practical guide, search wheel, and EVAC. The LPB TTT class will require the full three-days.

The ideal student has both search and search management experience. The class will not devote much time to instructional techniques, thus the participant should feel comfortable instructing. While the goal is to produce instructors, anyone is welcome since the knowledge you gain could help save a life.
