Dear Mr Biner,

Psychosocial risks are well-known to every employer and contribute to 80 million working days lost in the European public sector, annually. However, public organisations can apply a variety of tools in order to foster their own & their employees' resilience.

Receive best practices on measuring, preventing & managing psychosocial risks by high-profile experts at our

International Practical Seminar
Management of Psychosocial Risks in Public Institutions & International Organisations

23rd - 24th May 2019, Berlin

Book until 1st March and benefit from our exclusive early-booking rate.
Further Information

Your experts:

- Health & Safety Executive
  Senior Psychologist, United Kingdom
- Federal Foreign Office
  Occupational Psychologist, Germany
- International Organisation for Migration
  Staff Welfare Officer
- European Investment Bank
  Organisational Health Officer
- Organisation for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons
  Staff Counsellor on Mental Health
- Working Well Limited
  Founder

And the following key topics:

- Life & work in the 21st century: managing psychosocial risks
- Prevention of psychosocial stress by managing workplace conflict
- IOM's mental health strategy: addressing risks by prevention & care - Case Study
- Successful work reintegration after long-term sick leave - Case Study & Workshop
- Early detection of psychosocial issues at work - Workshop

We look forward to welcoming you to our International Practical Seminar in Berlin!

Yours sincerely,

Dipl.-Jur. Christoph Brauner
Managing Director